

028 ENG Selling a car

Louis, a very naive man, was having trouble selling his car.

He placed an ad in the newspaper, but after 2 months no one bought the car.

Everyone who came to look at the car complained that it had too many kilometers on it.

The odometer read 210,000.

He mentioned the problem to his co-worker, Charlie, who suggested that he bring the car to a mechanic friend of his.

"Here's the address," said Charlie.

"Tell him that I sent you to turn the odometer back".

Three weeks later Charlie asked Louis if he had had any luck selling the car.

"Why would I want to sell my car?" asked Louis. "It only has 38.000 kilometers on it!".

That's all for now. ?See you next time!

www.engpods.com